The U.S. Embassy alerts U.S. citizens that because of the heavy fighting in North Kivu province and the city of Goma between the FARDC and the M23 rebel group, there may be an increased risk of instability in South Kivu province and the Ituri region of Oriental province. The Embassy has received reports of increasing activities by various armed groups in these regions. The Embassy urges U.S. citizens to avoid all travel to these two regions. U.S. citizens who do travel to these areas should exercise extreme caution, especially at night. The U.S. Embassy has strictly limited travel by official personnel to South Kivu and Ituri. Travel to those regions for Embassy personnel is only permitted under exceptional circumstances.

You can stay in touch and get Embassy updates by checking the U.S. Embassy Kinshasa web site. You can also get global updates at the U.S. Department of State's, Bureau of Consular Affairs website where you can find the current Worldwide Caution, Travel Warning, Travel Alerts, and Country Specific Information. Follow us on Twitter and the Bureau of Consular Affairs page on Facebook as well; or you can download our free Smart Traveler App from iTunes or the Android market to have travel information at your fingertips. If you don't have internet access, you may obtain up-to-date information on security conditions by calling 1-888-407-4747 toll-free in the United States and Canada, or on a regular toll line at 1-202-501-4444 from other countries. These numbers are available from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Eastern Time, Monday through Friday (except U.S. federal holidays).

If you are going to live in or travel to the Democratic Republic of the Congo, please take the time to tell us about your trip by enrolling in the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program (STEP). If
