

Security Message for U.S. Citizens: Karachi (Pakistan), Increased Threat Reporting in Karachi

Threats

South Central Asia > Pakistan > Karachi

6/27/2016

The U.S. Consulate General in Karachi has seen an increase in threat reporting regarding possible terrorist attacks against various locations in Karachi, including shopping malls, during Ramzan and Eid-ul-Fitr. U.S. citizens are reminded to exercise caution in any location where Westerners gather, as well as any location where large crowds form. Employees of the U.S. Consulate will be subject to additional restrictions in the near term.

U.S. citizens are reminded that there is an active Travel Warning for Pakistan issued on April 7, 2016, and the Worldwide Caution, issued March 3, 2016. U.S. citizens are urged to defer all non-essential travel to Pakistan. The Mission reminds those U.S. citizens considering travel to or remaining in Pakistan despite this warning to enroll in the Smart Traveler Enrollment Program (STEP), keep a trusted friend informed of your movements in country, maintain vigilant situational awareness, avoid large crowds, keep a low profile, and avoid visiting locations frequented by Westerners. U.S. citizens in Pakistan are strongly urged to avoid hotels that do not apply stringent security measures. Official U.S. Mission personnel and visitors are not allowed to use public transportation in Pakistan and are not authorized to stay overnight in hotels in Pakistan. U.S. citizens should exercise caution when traveling in the country, keeping in mind the high security threat level. Travelers are urged to vary their times and routes when traveling anywhere in Pakistan, and to avoid travel patterns to any such locations that might allow other persons to predict when and where they will be. U.S. citizens are further advised to verify that travel documents, visas, and residency documents remain valid and accessible at all times.

Consular services in Pakistan are available in Karachi and Islamabad. The consulates in Lahore and Peshawar are not providing consular services at this time.
